Fund manager's commentary

Sterling strength left the pound 5.04%, 5.01% and 2.61% higher respectively against the yen, dollar and euro as no-deal Brexit fears faded following the first House of Commons vote in favour of a deal. Sterling's strength hurt UK stocks, which fell 2.09% although smaller stocks outperformed, up 0.01% because their domestic orientation will benefit from a smooth Brexit transition. All of the EF Brompton Global Conservative Fund investments in UK equity funds outperformed, with the iShares FTSE 250 exchange-traded fund (ETF), which holds medium-sized companies, doing best, up 0.61%. The Federal Reserve stuck to its script, cutting interest rates by a quarter percentage point. The Fed may, however, stand pat until 2020 given strong jobs data. Global bonds fell 4.13% in sterling while UK government and corporate bonds fell 1.88% and 0.17% respectively. Among the portfolio's bond holdings, Schroder Strategic did best, rising 0.55%, but the sterling-hedged Vanguard Global Bond holding fell 0.29%. Global equities rose in dollars but the stronger pound resulted in 2.14% fall in sterling. Among the portfolio's global equity investments, the worst performer was Legg Mason Global Infrastructure, which fell 3.51%, while Fundsmith Equity also lagged, down 2.48% as its growth-oriented portfolio underperformed value stocks. The gold price fell 1.92% in sterling but the iShares Gold Producers ETF fell only 0.32%. The second-worst non-cash performer was the 3i Infrastructure investment trust, down 3.05% after it issued new shares at a discount. The EF Brompton Global Conservative Fund fell 0.96%† in October while the sector fell 0.73%.

Investment policy

The Fund will typically invest a minimum of 80% of its net asset value in collective investment schemes, exchange traded funds, unregulated collective investment schemes, and may also include transferable securities (including investment trusts and similar instruments), money-market instruments, fixed income instruments, deposits and foreign exchange contracts.

It is expected that no more than 35% of the total Fund will have exposure to equity markets, with the remainder of the portfolio providing exposure to assets such as alternatives, commodities, property, cash, cash equivalents and fixed income investments, in order to maintain its conservative risk profile. However, investments will not be confined by industrial, economic or geographical sector.

The Fund may also hold, on a temporary basis, all or part of its assets in cash or other ancillary liquid assets.

The Fund may utilise derivatives for the purposes of efficient portfolio management (typically hedging, including investing in hedged share classes, which attempts to mitigate against falls in the value of the Fund's assets and the effects of changes in currency exchange rates against the Fund's base currency, which is pounds sterling).

The Fund's benchmark is IA Mixed Investment 0-35% Shares. This represents a comparator benchmark because the Fund's performance can be compared to funds which also sit within this industry sector.
