Fund manager's commentary

Global equities rose 1.80% as US payroll data improved following disappointing August and September numbers. The likelihood of a December US rate rise increased, therefore, and the dollar 2.60% rose against sterling. Currency strength helped US equities to gain 2.90% in sterling, outperforming global equities. Within the FP Brompton Global Conservative Fund, Artemis Global Equity Income and Fundsmith Equity benefited from rising US equities, rising 2.40% and 2.29% respectively. There was no respite for commodities as oil fell 10.82% in sterling. Europe ex-UK equities were handicapped by the euro's 1.91% fall against the pound and underperformed, rising just 0.94% in sterling. This hurt performance because the portfolio has a relatively high allocation to these markets. Dollar strength may continue as monetary policy diverges. UK equities rose 0.27% but GLG Undervalued Assets and Chelverton UK Equity Income lagged, falling 0.17% and 0.03% respectively. The portfolio also suffered from relatively modest returns from property, with Aberdeen Property returning 0.19%, and from Japan's equity market, where GLG Japan CoreAlpha returned 0.23%. In fixed income markets, UK corporate bonds and gilts returned 1.84% and 0.92% respectively. The iShares $ Treasury Bond 1-3 Years exchange-traded fund benefited from dollar strength, returning 2.48%, and the portfolio's exposure to dollar-denominated bond markets increased through the addition of Templeton Global Bond. M&G UK Inflation Linked Corporate Bond lagged, however, falling 0.42%, while the Salar convertible bond fund returned just 0.37%. The FP Brompton Global Conservative Fund gained 0.48%† in November, matching the sector's 0.48% rise.
