Fund manager's commentary

Global equities fell further in September, retreating 2.10% in sterling. The Federal Reserve held off raising interest rates despite strong jobs data. Low inflation and the threat of a global slowdown emanating from China stayed the Fed's hand. The dovish policy response failed to improve stockmarket sentiment, with investors seeking sanctuary in safe haven assets. As a result, the dollar rose 1.53% against sterling. Within the FP Brompton Global Conservative Fund, three bond funds generated gains. The iShares Core UK Gilts exchange-traded fund (ETF) returned 1.22% while the iShares Treasury Bond 1-3 Years and iShares Global Inflation Linked Bond ETFs rose 1.66% and 0.56% respectively. Property holdings also generated gains, with Aberdeen Property and Henderson UK Property rising 0.79% and 0.23% respectively. Emerging markets reversed the recent trend, outperforming despite the dollar headwind. At the end of a torrid quarter, Asia ex-Japan and emerging market equities fell 0.23% and 1.48% respectively in sterling. Japanese equities fell 4.98% in sterling as risk-averse investors pushed the yen 2.74% higher against the pound, reducing Japan's export competitiveness. The portfolio benefited from holding no Japanese funds during September. UK equities, depressed by London's heavy weighting towards commodity stocks, fell 2.99%. Lindsell Train UK Equity Income, however, rose 0.41%, benefiting from its focus on companies with global consumer franchises. Two global equity funds, Fundsmith Equity and Artemis Global Equity Income, were also relatively defensive, falling 0.49% and 2.02% respectively. The FP Brompton Global Conservative Fund fell 0.49%† in September while the sector fell 0.79%.
