Investment policy

The Fund will principally invest in collective investment schemes, exchange-traded funds and unregulated collective investment schemes (which include limited partnerships). The Fund may also invest in investment trusts (and similar instruments) and other transferable securities, money-market instruments, fixed income instruments, deposits and foreign exchange contracts. Investments will not be confined to any particular sector.

The Fund may hold, on a temporary basis, all or part of its assets in cash or other ancillary liquid assets. The Fund may utilise derivatives for the purposes of efficient portfolio management.

Fund manager's commentary

Global equities fell 0.32% in sterling terms in July on concerns that strong US economic data would encourage the Federal Reserve to tighten monetary policy more rapidly than anticipated. America's economy grew at an annualised rate of 4% in the second quarter. The destruction of a Malaysian Airlines plane over Ukraine re-ignited smouldering political tensions and led to increased volatility and risk aversion. Europe ex-UK equities underperformed, falling 3.74% in sterling. This reflected Germany's reliance on Russian gas imports and fears of tougher trade sanctions. The European Central Bank kept interest rates on hold and took no other action to alleviate weak eurozone inflation, which declined to 0.4%. Within the FP Brompton Global Conservative Fund, Schroder European Alpha Income did worst, falling 4.89%. Its portfolio of domestically-focused eurozone equities, however, has significant recovery potential as monetary policy should remain supportive long after US and UK rates start to rise. In China, a key leading indicator showed manufacturing prospects had brightened and policy-makers intervened to improve smaller companies' access to capital. Emerging market and Asia ex-Japan equities gained 3.32% and 4.88% respectively in sterling. Schroder SmallCap Discovery was the best performer, rising 4.30%. Investec Enhanced Natural Resources rose 0.83% as oil and industrial commodity equities benefited and gold equities responded to the gold price's 4.49% rise this year in sterling. Investors sought safety in gilts and corporate bonds, which outperformed equities, rising 1.01% and 0.52% respectively. The FP Brompton Global Conservative Fund rose 0.31% in July against 0.13% for the sector.
