Fund manager's commentary

Japanese equities gained 4.46% in May, outperforming global equities, which rose 2.90% in sterling. Japan's economy expanded by an annualised 6.7% in the first quarter, driven by rising exports and consumer spending ahead of the recent consumption tax rise. The second quarter may be weaker in consequence but a mooted corporate tax cut could smooth the impact by stimulating further growth in corporate capital spending. Within the FP Brompton Global Conservative Fund, Morant Wright Nippon Yield and the sterling-hedged Lindsell Train Japanese fund gained 3.84% and 3.76% respectively in sterling. Emerging market and Asia Pacific ex-UK equities gained 4.20% and 3.93% respectively in sterling as US treasury yields fell and strong US macro-economic data fostered risk-taking. Indian equities rose 10.31% in sterling as Narendra Modi was elected prime minister with a convincing majority and a mandate for reform. Moscow equities did even better, returning 13.44% in sterling as fears of an escalation in the Ukraine crisis subsided. Schroder Small Cap Discovery was the best performer within the portfolio, rising 5.21% in sterling. This fund has a broad geographic exposure across developing economy equity markets, including a significant investment in Indian equities. F&C Property Growth and Income gained 3.86% in sterling as Europe ex-UK property equities rose ahead of a further European Central Bank interest rate cut to combat deflationary risks. Chelverton UK Equity Income was sold outright in favour of increased investment in Schroder European. The FP Brompton Global Conservative Fund gained 0.89% in May against 1.12% for the sector.
