Investment policy

The Fund will principally invest in collective investment schemes, exchange-traded funds and unregulated collective investment schemes (which include limited partnerships). The Fund may also invest in investment trusts (and similar instruments) and other transferable securities, money-market instruments, fixed income instruments, deposits and foreign exchange contracts. Investments will not be confined to any particular sector.

The Fund may hold, on a temporary basis, all or part of its assets in cash or other ancillary liquid assets. The Fund may utilise derivatives for the purposes of efficient portfolio management.

Fund manager's commentary

Oil fell further in December, dropping 19.35% in sterling. Excessive supply appears the primary cause as Opec producers maintain output despite the growth in US shale oil production. Lower energy costs will stimulate global economic growth but investors fear the potential disinflationary consequences. Inflation fell to 0.5% in the UK in December. Global equities fell 1.46% and UK equities underperformed, falling 2.27% as a result of the high representation of natural resources companies in the UK stockmarket. In the eurozone, consumer prices turned negative, dropping 0.2% on a year ago. Eurozone equities fell 4.59% in sterling, partly as a result of the euro's 2.51% decline against sterling. The Federal Reserve remains on track to raise interest rates in mid-2015 following strong employment and consumer confidence data. US equities rose 0.18% as the dollar gained 0.44% against sterling. US equity investment within the FP Brompton Global Growth Fund increased through an additional purchase of Fundsmith but overall equity exposure reduced following profit-taking in Japanese and emerging market equity funds. Gilts and corporate bonds rose 1.78% and 1.32% respectively because weak inflation reduced the likelihood of a UK interest rate rise. UK commercial property also benefited. F&C Property Growth & Income gained 2.61% and was the best performer. Investec Enhanced Natural Resources was sold outright in the light of the worsening environment for commodities. The Blackrock World Mining investment trust fell 10.82% and was the worst performer. The FP Brompton Global Growth Fund fell 0.61% in December against 0.46% for the sector.
