Fund manager's commentary

Sterling weakened ahead of the Scottish independence referendum but failed to rally after the "no" vote, leaving it 2.44% down against the dollar in September. UK inflation data remained weak and expectations of an earlier rise in UK interest rates relative to US rates receded. US unemployment fell to 5.9% and key leading indicators remained strong. US equities gained 1.01% in sterling while global equities overall fell 0.84% in sterling. The stronger dollar proved a headwind for Asia Pacific ex-Japan and emerging market equities, which fell 4.98% and 5.13% respectively in sterling. Both of the FP Brompton Global Growth Fund's investments in these markets outperformed, however, with Schroder Small Cap Discovery up by 0.76%. Europe ex-UK equities fell 0.66% in sterling as economic data weakened. German industrial production, still affected by the Ukrainian conflict, fell 4.0% in August. Further substantive European Central Bank policy action is anticipated but an announcement seemed unlikely ahead of October's financial health-check of eurozone banks. UK equities declined 2.89% as weakness among industrial commodity shares weighed on the market. The Global Growth Fund benefited from its relatively-low UK holdings but losses at Blackrock Gold & General and the Blackrock World Mining investment trust, down 12.72% and 9.11% respectively, were severe. Japanese equities, however, gained 1.39% in sterling on yen weakness. The holding in the GLG Japan CoreAlpha sterling-hedged share class was replaced by a holding in the dollar-hedged share class. The Global Growth Fund fell by 1.68% in September compared to 1.04% for the sector.
