Fund manager's commentary

Sterling weakened ahead of the Scottish independence referendum but failed to rally after the "no" vote, leaving it 2.44% down against the dollar in September. UK inflation data remained weak and expectations of an earlier rise in UK interest rates relative to US rates receded. US unemployment fell to 5.9% and leading indicators remained strong. US equities gained 1.01% in sterling while global equities overall fell 0.84% in sterling. The stronger dollar proved a headwind for Asia Pacific ex-Japan and emerging market equities, which fell 4.98% and 5.13% respectively in sterling, but the FP Brompton Global Opportunities Fund's holdings in the Fidelity China Special Situations investment trust and Schroder Small Cap Discovery outperformed, rising 2.27% and 0.76% respectively. Europe ex-UK equities fell 0.66% in sterling as economic data weakened. German industrial production, still affected by the Ukrainian conflict, fell 4.0% in August. Further substantive European Central Bank policy action is anticipated but an announcement seemed unlikely ahead of October's financial health-check of eurozone banks. UK equities declined 2.89%, weighed down by weakness among industrial commodity shares. The Global Opportunities Fund benefited from its relatively-low UK holdings but Blackrock Gold & General and the Blackrock World Mining investment trust, down 12.72% and 9.11% respectively, were conspicuously weak. Japanese equities, however, gained 1.39% in sterling on yen weakness. The holding in the GLG Japan CoreAlpha sterling-hedged share class was replaced by the dollar-hedged share class. The FP Brompton Global Opportunities Fund fell by 1.44% in September compared to 1.06% for the sector.
